

William TRELOAR 1800 – 1857

William TRELOAR was born in the south-west corner of Cornwall, at Wendron, in 1800, most likely to a mining family. It seems this family did not move around much for they were in Wendron since the late 1400s, until William left the area in 1847, headed for Australia. William married Ann PASCOE in 1824, and they had 12 children by 1844, all living to adulthood. William and Ann decided to bring the entire family to South Australia in 1847, probably because of local advertising of enticing jobs in South Australia, and because the local mining industry was starting to decline. I previously said a two-year-old boy would be a challenge on a three-month trip on a sailing ship, but twelve kids??? There is no firm evidence that William was a miner, but it is most likely that he worked in the mining industry. He is absent from the family residence on census night in 1841, and I cannot identify him anywhere else. The family settled in Kapunda in South Australia once they arrived here, but some members of the family soon took land north of Kapunda and became farmers. William died in 1857 at the young age of 57 years, and he left a large number of descendants in the colony.

William's earliest ancestor is an impressive 7 x great grandfather John TRELOWARTH, born in 1475. However, it is based on an entry on the FamilySearch website, and has no early references. This also includes a surname name change with no source documentation. I have seen a TRELOAR book that goes back almost as far, and includes the name change, and some evidence which is not independently verifiable. I have included the information here with the caution that it may or may not be accurate.

John TRELOWARTH b1475

John TRELOWETH was born in 1475 and died in 1515. He was married but to whom is not known. His son was Ralph TRELOWARTH, born in 1500.

Wendron is at 1 on this map. It is a rural area between Truro and Penzance (just off the left edge of this map).

Ralph TRELOWARTH b1500

Ralph TRELOWARTH was born in 1500 in Wendron, Cornwall, and married Ann JEFFRY. Ralph's son was Wearne TRELOWARTH, born in 1532. Ralph died in 1545.

Wearne TRELOWARTH b1532

Wearne TRELOWARTH was born in 1532, and married Alice SWAN. Wearne's son was Benedict TRELOAR, born in 1581. Both Wearne and Alice were close to 50 years of age at this birth, so is this relationship correct?? Wearne died in 1585.

Benedict TRELOAR b1581

Benedict TRELOAR was born in 1581 in Wendron, and now we have the current surname spelling. He married Johanna THOMAS in 1605, in Wendron. A son was Ralph TRELOAR, born in 1618. Benedict died in 1628, still in Wendron.

Ralph TRELOAR b1618

Ralph TRELOAR was born and christened in 1618 in Wendron. He married Jane SYMONDS in 1648, and had a son James, born in 1666. Ralph died in 1667 in Wendron. Ralph is the earliest person where I have reasonable records to support these connections. Benedict was almost 50 at the time of Ralph's birth, but Johanna was nearer forty years of age.

James TRELOAR b1666

James TRELOAR was born in 1666 in Wendron, and he married twice. The first marriage gave the couple four children, and the second, three. The second marriage was to a much younger Mary WEARNE in 1710, and James was 44 years of age at this marriage. James and Mary's second child was Bennet, born in 1713. James died in 1720 aged 54 years.

Bennet TRELOAR b1713

Bennet TRELOAR was born in 1713 in Wendron. He married Jane GLUVIAS in 1739 in Wendron, and died in 1761, in Wendron, aged 48 years. A son was Bennet TRELOAR, born in 1742.

Bennet TRELOAR b1742

Bennet was born in 1742, and was baptised in 1743 in Wendron. He married Jane REED in 1766, in Wendron. One of their children was Benjamin TRELOAR, born in 1770. The FamilySearch website shows lots of children (with no evidence), and I am not sure how accurate that information is. Bennet died in 1825, at the ripe old age of 83 years.

Benjamin TRELOAR b1770

Benjamin TRELOAR married Penelope ROWE in 1795, and William was born in 1800, in Wendron, Cornwall.

William TRELOAR b1800

William TRELOAR was born in 1800, in Wendron. He married Ann PASCOE in 1824, and they had twelve children by 1844. In the English 1841 census, Ann is listed as a housekeeper with ten children, but William is not listed. He may have been working the night-shift, although I could not find him anywhere else. He is still around for another two children who were yet to be born. All the children lived long enough to set sail for Australia in 1847, on the ship 'British Sovereign'. They probably left from Plymouth for the three month journey.

William, Ann and the children would have gone straight to Kapunda. William and Ann lived there for the rest of their lives, although, for William, that was only for ten years. His fourth child and first daughter was Ann, named after her mother, and Ann was born in 1831 in Wendron, Cornwall.

Ann TRELOAR b1831

Ann TRELOAR was born in 1831 in Wendron. She made the long voyage, at age 16 years, with the rest of the family in 1847, but soon moved to Adelaide. She met William Laity MORRIS and married in the capital in 1853. I have previously written about the MORRIS family, and the story continues in that narrative.

William TRELOAR is one of my (Jan SQUIRE's) ancestors that came to South Australia, and my three times great grandfather. Ann TRELOAR is my 2 x great grandmother.
